JAPAN SAYS 'NO' IN VOTE TO DISARM

Diet Rejects Ex-Minister's Bill, 285 To 38

OPPONENTS UNITE

Proposer Of Measure Cheered By Crowded Galleries

(Reuter's Service)

Tokio, Feb. 10.—The resolution of the ex-Minister of Justice, Mr. Ozaki, calling for the restriction of naval expenditure through an agreement with Great Britain and America, and also a reduction of the Army, was the chief subject of debate in the Diet today. It was ultimately rejected by 285 votes to 38, the minority including the Kokuminto, and two or three members of the Kenseikai, party.

In supporting his proposals, Mr. Ozaki said that in pursuing her present plan of expansion, Japan was courting national danger, since it was useless to engage in competition with others. The absence of a reduction in the burden of taxes was a serious menace to the country, and the present disproportionate program was hampering education. Injudicious expansion, he said, encouraged communism and socialism. It was imperatively necessary for Japan to take the initiative as regarded disarmament, he concluded.

Mr. Uehara of the Kokuminto Party, supporting Mr. Ozaki said that the adoption of the resolution would help to disabuse the world of the suspicion that Japan was aggressive and militaristic.

FEARS RUSSIA, CHINA

Mr. Tsuda of the Seiyukai Party in opposing it, said that Japan could not afford a reduction of armaments owing to the present disturbed conditions in Russia and China.

The preponderance of the vote against the resolution was due to the fact that the parties had previously held long caucauses and resolved to oppose it as parties.

Mr. Ozaki, who was cheered by crowded galleries, is at present politically unpopular, having left his party through his opposition to the Suffrage Bill.

New York, Feb. 10.—The advocates of disarmament here are disappointed at the Senate Naval Committee's negative reply to Senator Borah's resolution asking for information as to whether it were advisable and feasible to suspend American naval building for six months.

The World deplores the obstinacy of Congress in leaving the matter over for the new administration, because it has long, it asserts, been apparent that the great powers would enter any discussions on the subject in which the United States participated.

SAYS U.S. SHOULD ACT

The Times thinks the call for a disarmament conference should come from the United States, but adds that since the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations have been rejected, it is logical and prudent that the United States should continue her preparations for war.

The Committee's report asserts that capital ships must remain the principal units of seapower, adding that submarines and aircraft are still only auxiliary forces. It expresses a desire to secure a reduction of armaments, but says that disarmament is valueless unless it is general, and in the case of the great maritime powers, universal.

It declares that the greatest imaginable danger to peace would be for one nation to expose itself to attack while another was preparing all the engines of war.

N. ZEALAND TO REMAIN "WHITE"

Attorney General Says Renewal Of Anglo-Jap Pact Is Opposed

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 10.—The Attorney-General of New Zealand, Sir John Findlay, who represented New Zealand on the Imperial Conference of 1911, and who is now in London, in an article to the press says that New Zealand and Australia, while appreciating Japan's assistance in the war, have resolved to remain 'white man's countries,' and have prepared their plans for a big scheme of, firstly, Imperial, and secondly, European immigration, barring Russians and Germans. The scheme will presently be launched.

The two dominions object emphatically, he says, to renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty, which is unjustified since the Russian and German menaces have been removed, and America is ready to make common cause in the event of a Japanese 'peril.'

The question must, the article concludes, be properly threshed out at the coming Imperial Conference.

He praises Mr. Sze's tact and skill, and his courteous and perfectly frank diplomacy.

CHINESE BANKS SAVE OFFICIALS OVER NEW YEAR

Customs And Salt Surpluses Pledged As Security For Loans

ANOTHER "CRISIS" PASSED

Necessity For Borrowing From Japanese Avoided This Year

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, February 7.—Cut off, by the influence of the Consortium, from the prospect of foreign aid in getting by the Chinese New Year's settlement, and abruptly checked in its plans to raise money, at the expense of the further dilution of its internal credit through another issue of domestic bonds, by the ultimatum of the Bankers' Association to the effect that they would refuse to accept, handle or broker such bonds, the Chinese government has thrown itself upon the mercy of the Chinese bankers.

These native financiers have promptly taken advantage of the situation to compel the Ministry of Finance to accept their program for the pooling of China's domestic bonded debt with the entire Customs and Salt surpluses hypothecated to guarantee interest payments.

The Ministry has tentatively acquiesced and has appointed the leading Chinese bankers and the Director-General of the Maritime Customs a commission to work out the details of the plan. In consequence the native bankers have relented and advanced a sum of six million dollars to see the goverhment past the new year.

It may be regarded as a sign of progress in Chinese financial independence that, although the Ministry of Finance comes up to the New Year as hopelessly incapable as ever of meeting its obligations in an upright manner, the amount enabling it to "get by" has been advanced by a syndicate of Chinese bankers rather than Japanese politico-financiers as was the case last year. For this improvement, the Chinese bankers who profit, as well as the Chinese people who are relieved of the fear of the impairment of their country's sovereignty, have the Consortium to thank.

LOAN IS WELL SECURED

The Chinese bankers, who, when announcing their first group loan to the government, concluded on January 8, of six million dollars for rolling-stock for the trunk-line railroads, stated that they would adhere strictly to the principles, learned from the Consortium, of no loans for administration and strict supervision of use of loan proceeds, have departed therefrom sufficiently to assist the government over settlement day, thereby taking a more pragmatic line of action than the foreign financiers. They are, however, well-secured is regard to their administrative loan, the security and source of payment for principal and interest being at one and the same time the Peking Octroi tax. (The tax of three and one-half percent upon all goods entering the walls of the capital). The loan terms provide for strict accounting as to expenditure and give the bankers a degree of supervisory control over the collection of the revenue. The loan is to be repaid within six year's time. It is discounted 7 percent and bears 8 percent interest.

Thus the government has solved the question of the New Year's crisis, although there are numbers of creditors unpaid and the courtyard of the Ministry of Interior has been filled, for several days, with a beseiging mob of collectors, who, when the doors closed yesterday morning, were forced to turn away with empty hands. But the big problem is that of the finances for the lunar year 1921, and, as Minister Chow has openly stated, the new financial reconstruction plan is the only remaining basis of hope of averting a complete governmental financial crash by the time of the midyear settlement next summer.

FIVE LOANS CONTRACTED

The obligations met at the end of the lunar year were some $27,000,000. Five native loans were contracted which totaled an amount of about $24,000,000. $13,000,000 was paid as principal on previous loans and $9,700,000 advanced on military arrears, $4,500,000 having gone to salaries and expenses of administrative departments. Remittances from the provinces, upon which some hope was laid, failed, as usual, to materialise.

Nevertheless the various Ministries seem to be fairly well

MRS. EGAN WILL SEND 12,000 WORD CABLE ON FAMINE

American Writer Coming To Shanghai To File Magazine Story

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, February 8.—Mrs. Eleanor Franklin Egan, who will be accompanied on her tour through the interior famine districts by Mr. Josef W. Hall, Staff Correspondent of THE CHINA PRESS, and Dr. Wilder, of the American Board Mission and International Famine Relief Committee, Peking, is leaving Peking Wednesday morning, February 9, for a trip of investigation along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway as far as Tsinan, from which place she will take a short side trip down the Yellow River to Chiyang, one of the worst-stricken areas of Shantung. After preparing her material at Tsinan, Mrs. Egan will make a special trip to Shanghai from which port she will cable a lengthy report on conditions to America. Special arrangements have been made with the cable companies in America for the cabling of twelve-thousand words on the famine by Mrs. Egan.

From Shanghai Mrs. Egan will return to Tsinan, and picking up her party again, she will strike overland across the affected area to the Peking-Hankow line, investigating conditions in the border regions of Shantung, Chihli and Honan provinces. She also plans a trip to the capital of Shensi, the conditions in which province have been overlooked by previous famine investigators.

Mrs. Egan is writing up the famine for her paper, the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, and at the same time acting as official investigator for the American Famine Relief Committee, of which Mr. Thomas W. Lamont is treasurer.

THE CHINA PRESS Peking Correspondent, Mr. Hall, who will accompany Mrs. Egan's party, will write special reports of the present situation in the famine area for THE CHINA PRESS.

Connaught Asks India To Forget Amritsar Affair

(Reuter's Service)

London, February 10.—At the inauguration of the new Council of State and Legislative Assembly, of Delhi, the Duke of Connaught read a message from the King, in the course of which his Majesty stated that for years, and perhaps generations, patriotic and loyal Indians had dreamed of home rule for their Motherland. Today they had the beginnings of home rule within the Empire and the widest scope and ample opportunity for progress to the liberty enjoyed by the other Dominions.

The message dwelt on the new Council's very special responsibility of convincing the world of the wisdom of the great constitutional change.

In a subsequent speech, the Duke of Connaught made a striking personal appeal, which produced a scene of great emotion. He said that since landing he had felt around him bitterness and estrangement between those who had been and should still be friends. The shadow of Amritsar had lengthened over the fair face of India.

He expressed His Majesty's deep concern and his own intense feeling over the terrible chapter of event in the Punjab, and, as an old friend of India, movingly appealed to both British and Indians to let the dead past bury its dead, to forgive where that was necessary, and to co-operate for the realisation of their newborn hopes.

(Special Cable)

Washington, December 10.—The House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee is expected to approve the tax exemption feature of the National Incorporation Bill, introduced in the House by Congressman Leonidas P. Dyer of St. Louis, permitting the federal incorporation of American companies doing business in China.

Carl L. Seitz and J. B. Powell, here as representatives of the American Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai to urge the passage of the bill, appeared before the Ways and Means Committee and described the difficulties encountered by American business men who must compete with other nationals who are not handicapped by restrictions such as those imposed by the present American laws.

(Reuter's Service)

London, February 10.—Replying to a letter from Mr. J. Bromley, Secretary of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, which threatens a railway strike on the 15th inst. unless the Government grants an enquiry into the recent shooting of Irish railwaymen at Mallow, Mr. Lloyd George says he is requesting information on the subject from Ireland, but he declares that no threat of a national strike can be permitted to influence the administration of the law. The Government, he adds, will consider the question purely on its merits, and without reference to any improper threats.

Mere Man Now A Beauty Parlor Customer

"Do men have their hair marcelled and have their eyebrows plucked?" asked a woman patron in a Chicago beauty shop. "Do they. Well I guess they do," replied the beauty parlor attendant, "and not only that they go the limit and get a permanent wave. Men are becoming steady patrons in shops of this kind. They buy many cosmetics, including cold cream and perfumes." The photo shows a Chicago business man having his hair marcelled.

Shriners Feast And Frolic

Novitiates Shake Sand From Their Feet

Nobles Welcome Potentates

Last night was jubilation night [illegible] when the pilgrimage of Nomad Oasis to Shanghai drew up in celebration of the advent to our shores of the emissaries of the Imperial Potentate—an event historic to Shrinedom and greeted by the most noteworthy assembly of Nobles hitherto brought together in ancient China's confines.

The event took the form of a dinner dance at the Astor House ballroom, where nearly three hundred valiant Nobles of the order and their ladies gathered to appreciate the imposing menu, give the greetings and step the varied dances incident to the occasion. The gathering included practically all of the seventy-odd who but the day before were numbered among the novitiate, who came with feet fresh blistered by the "burning sands" to find surcease in the treading of the soothing foxtrot and the solacing waltz.

VISITORS ARE HONORED

Guests of honor for the evening were the visiting Divan from Afifi Temple, Tacoma, representatives of the Imperial Potentate, who came to Shanghai under a dispensation secured at the last session of the Imperial Council to hold the special ceremonial which took place here Thursday—the first trip of its kind made outside the continent of North America since the Order of the Mystic Shrine came into being. The visiting delegation is composed of Illustrious Potentate Grover C. Nolte, Past Illustrious Potentate Ed. B. King, Assistant Rabban Charles M. Sherman, Assistant Recorder O. H. Carver and Ceremonial Master V. T. McCroskey. Mrs. Nolte and Mrs. Sherman also accompany the party.

The Astor ballroom was colorfully decorated for the affair. An evergreen arch, surmounted by star and crescent and carrying in electric letters the words "Nomad Oasis," spanned the entrance and the walls, ceiling and pillars were decked with red, yellow and green bunting and the flags of the principal nations. The long tables, filling the ballroom, were prettily decorated and handsomely gotten up souvenir menu cards were a feature.

There were no speeches during the dinner but the hotel orchestra rendered a pleasing musical program. An enlivening incident attended the taking of the group flash-light when the powder of the photographer's lighting apparatus ignited some of the decorations. Fast and efficient work by the Nobles approximate quickly subdued the flare.

RECEPTION IS HELD

Following the dinner there was an informal recention, while the hall was cleared of its tables and made ready for the dancing. Illustrious Potentate Nolte, Noble and Mrs. C. S. Lobingier, President Rosenfeld and other officials were in the receiving line.

When the dancing floor had been cleared the assembly reentered for the grand march, which was led off by Noble Rosenfeld and Mrs. Nolte to the strains of a march—"Afifi Temple March"—written especially for the occasion by Noble Julius Rosenfeld. Then followed the program of regular dances and the gaiety was continuing as press time arrived.

U.S. TO FIGHT FOR RIGHT TO BUILD RADIO PLANT HERE

Crane Notified That Americans Will Be Aided

BRITAIN OPPOSED

Violation Of Contract To Marconi Is Alleged

PLAN 5 STATIONS

City May Become One Of World's Great Wireless Centers

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, February 10.—The State Department has notified the American Minister at Peking, Mr. Crane, that the United States will support the claim of an American Federal company to the right to construct a wireless plant at Shanghai. At the offices of the State Department today it was said that the question had been taken up with Great Britain.

According to Mr. Crane's advices, to the Department, Great Britain has protested against a contract between the Chinese Government and the American Company on the ground that it violates the contract given to the Marconi Company.

Note.—A contract for the construction of five wireless stations, two at Shanghai, one at Hankow, one at Peking and one at Harbin, was signed in Peking on January 8, between the Federal Wireless Telephone Company of America, represented by Barnes Moss, and the Chinese Ministry of Communications, represented by the Minister and the Director-general of Telegraph.

The contract, according to the Peking Leader, provides for an advance on the part of the wireless company of four and a half million dollars gold for the purpose of construction only. The wireless telegraph plant of the first magnitude is to be capable of transmitting to and receiving from any portion of the world and is to be supplemented by four sub-stations at Shanghai, Canton, Peking and Harbin.

GEDDES STORY BADLY GARBLED

News Association Says Reports Were "Wholly Incorrect"

(Reuter's Service)

London, Feb. 11.—The misleading "drifting into war" version of Sir Auckland Geddes' conversation with American journalists in London has been followed by fresh reports, which emanate from London and have been cabled back from New York, to the effect that the British Ambassador, on his return to the United States, will suggest a disarmament conference.

Senator Borah, who recently took up this matter in the Senate, is of opinion that this step indicates a change in British policy on the question of the freedom of the seas. The New York Times and World welcome the announcement, and refer to what they describe as "the Allies' sorry experience with the United States on the Peace Treaty." They urge that Congress should furnish assurances that it will not wantonly reject any measure likely to bring about an agreement.

The United Press issues the following announcement: "In view of the alarmist and wholly incorrect statements on Anglo-American relations published in America, and said to be based on a United Press message, the United Press representative saw Sir Auckland Geddes, to apologise for the inaccurate presentation of their story."

A meeting of the Society of American Correspondents in London yesterday sent a letter of regret to Sir Auckland Geddes, deploring the fact that his utterances had been misreported in certain United States newspapers.

UNGERN'S FORCE OCCUPIES URGA

Peking Hears Report That General Kao Tsai-tien Was Killed

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Feb. 11.—According to a telegram from Siberia, Baron Ungern's force occupied Urga on the 2nd inst, and have since been inflicting great cruelties upon the population. The Chinese authorities have received no information from Urga since the 2nd, when a message stated that the wireless station was under shell fire, and must perforce be abandoned. The enemy were then attacking the town from three sides.

Rumors are circulating in Peking, based on the reports of travellers, to the effect that General Kao Tsai-tien was killed about the same time that the Hutukhtu escaped. Local Russians state that the enemy were not prepared to launch a heavy attack on Urga before rescuing the Hutukhtu, lest he should suffer, but once he had escaped, they turned their guns on the city, pushed home the attack.

The message from Siberia mentioned above, further states that some Chinese troops from Urga are retreating northwards, and others eastward. There seems to be no doubt that Mongols had joined the invaders in numbers prior to the despatch of the last official telegrams.

Belgian Engineer's Wife Dies, Children Suffer In Storm

(China Press Correspondence)

Tunghaishien, Feb. 2.—A few weeks ago, a Belgian engineer, Kets by name, and his family, who had come to begin work on the harbor at Hsukeo, took up their residence on the Island, "Sien Tao," several li from the mainland and lived in Chinese houses.

During the heavy snow storms in January they were cut off from the mainland for several days, with no communication of any kind.

Mrs. Kets was taken ill with pneumonia, and died before the mission doctor from Haichow could reach them.

There were two little children who were taken into the missionaries' homes until their father could come for them.

Continued bad weather made the roads impossible, and it was almost a week before he could reach the seaport four miles from Haichow.

Through the influence and kindness of the Military official, he was able to get passage across to Tsingtao on the little Japanese steamer.

Quite a large number of Belgian engineers have arrived in China, and are waiting in Peking for more favorable weather before coming here to begin work.

The community, both Chinese and foreign, are rejoicing in the return from America of Rev. J. W. Vinson, who successfully underwent a very serious operation, and has returned in good health.

Resents Slurs On British Employers

Sir West Ridgeway Refutes Charges Of Anti-Slavery Society

(Reuter's Service)

London, February 10.—Sir West Ridgeway, President of the British North Borneo Chartered Company, in a letter to the Times, referring to the charges of the Anti-Slavery and Aborigines' Protection Society against the Administration of North Borneo, which were officially investigated and declared unfounded, strongly advises the Society's Committee to exercise some supervision and restraint over "the well-meaning zealots who, obsessed by the delusion that every British employer of native labor is a tyrant, and every Government official in countries inhabited by native races necessarily a liar, drag the Society into false and compromising situations."

He instances recent attacks on the Administrations of East Africa, West Africa, South Africa, and now North Borneo, which are, he says is unjustified as they are cruel. He is advised by eminent counsel, he states, that the recent attacks on the Chartered Company are actionable.

Customs Officials Doubt Rum Ruling

(Reuter's Service)

New York, February 10.—The New York Customs authorities express the opinion that the decision of the Department of Justice that no ship transporting liquor from one foreign port to another may call at an American port will, if strictly carried out, prevent the entry of any passenger liner having a bar, even though its contents are sealed. Shipping circles are doubtful whether the ruling will be strictly construed.

Chefalo And Palermo

"What you know can't happen does happen. And though you don't believe it, you see it."

That about sums up the show that Signor Chefalo and Signorina Palermo are now putting up at the Olympic Theater. Chefalo introduced himself with the remark that "you may advertise as much as you like and you may say that you can do all sorts of things but the final verdict must lie with the public."

A very good part of the playgoing public turned out to see the two magicians last night and the interest and enthusiasm that it displayed left little to be desired. The duo is as clever as anything that we have ever seen here. From the very start we were kept absolutely mystified and thanks to some very excellent and witty chatter on the part of Chefalo, we were often able to laugh, and thus get some relief from the thraldom into which trick after trick enveloped us.

What Chefalo can do with pair of hands, the ordinary man could not do with an army corps and its full equipment. He seemed to be able to supply more poultry from a small bag, or the back of a small man, than the up-to-date farm yard could produce in a week. He sent handkerchiefs, with rings and watches hanging on to them, into the highest corners of the Olympic's lofty ceiling. He did more to bring his auditors into communication with the spirit world than the redoubtable Conan Doyle. In short Chefalo is a master of mystery, and he can look forward with confidence to "taking-in" many a full house during his stay here.

In Signorina Palermo we have a visitor who is unique. We usually see a lady as an assistant to a conjurer and naturally she is always attractive, but here we have a mistress-magician who is the equal in every way to Chefalo himself. She accomplishes all sorts of remarkable feats with a neatness and dexterity that leaves the audiences gasping with surprise and then thundering out its applause in appreciation.

Besides mystery, a delightful touch is given to the program by some artistic dancing by both the artists. One of the features of the show, by the way, is the number of wonderful costumes that Signorina Palermo wears, and their beauty is made the more striking by the rapidity with which she changes them.

Today there is to be a matinee at three o'clock, and a night performance at 9.15. The whole performance can be thoroughly recommended to all who would ask for mystery, laughter and entertainment.—Domino.

Admiral Sah Chen-ping recently advocated an issue of fifty million dollars' worth of Naval bonds to be secured upon natural resources to be set aside for the exploitation of the Navy. His scheme never had a chance, and he has been forced to go into "sick" retirement in order to escape his creditors. No obligations have been paid by this Ministry for several months, in contrast to the Ministry of War, which appears to be opulent, a fortunate consequence of having the Premier as its concurrent head. The Ministry of Education has again had to threaten that public education would be brought to a standstill unless the instructors receive some pay. The teachers of the higher colleges have served an ultimatum that they will not conduct the spring examinations until they have received arrears in full, but their cause goes unheeded while attaches of the Ministry of War are throwing their unearned salaries about in an orgy of New Year pleasure.

'Eliza Comes To Stay'

The Warwick Comedy Company presented H. V. Esmond's hardy perennial at the Lyceum last evening and gave a none-too-well-filled house a happy and enthusiastic evening.

Miss Marjorie Clark, in the title role, gave a thoroughly charming rendition of a none-too-easy character. Mr. Dudley Howarth was an easy and natural "Sandy Verrail" Miss Radford, an attractive maid, and Mr. Tom Fenwick an excellent "Uncle Alexander." Mr. Wheatley, Miss Muriel Aked and Miss Lena Flowerdew were all quite good in their respective characters, Mr. Wheatley playing the role of a fat man although not quite able physically to live up to the character.

It has without doubt the largest sale of any Blood Tonic and Revitaliser in whole of Europe and America. It enjoys this sale solely by reason of its efficacy. Its formula is not a "secret." Twits Mr. Balfour On His Bachelorhood

Lloyd George Referring To Foster Marriage, Hopes For Colleague

London, Dec. 25.—Premier Lloyd George, who has broken many traditions, shattered one of the toughest this week. He publicly twitted Arthur J. Balfour, president of the Council, about his bachelorhood. Great Britain's austere elder statesman is said not to relish allusions to his state of single blessedness, particularly since Mrs. Asquith "made him famous" as one man she did not wed, in relating how when he was asked regarding the rumor that he and Margot were engaged replied: "My God, I hope not. I want my own career."

Lloyd George broke the ice at the luncheon to the British Empire delegates to the League of Nations Assembly at Geneva by alluding to the marriage in Geneva of Sir George Foster, at which Mr. Balfour was best man. In concluding a toast he turned jocularly and said: "I venture to associate this toast with the name of Sir George Foster, who, I understand, recently entered another union. Mr. Balfour was there representing Great Britain and I have no doubt Sir George will return the compliment when Mr. Balfour undertakes similar obligations." This was greeted by roars of laughter from every one except Mr. Balfour.

Turn For Better Marking Raw Silk Trade In Japan

Attempts At Covering Some Qualities Partially Dispel Gloom

The raw silk market is growing markedly better on exporters' attempt at covering some qualities preferred by their European and American importers. However, at this new turn holders are trying to bolster up the price and it is doubted if it will develop into any definitive boom.

Extra grades were covered by several exporters, including the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, Hara and Company, the Yokohama Kiito Kaisha and others, and 21 medium and 14 medium changed hands to the extent of 40,000 kin at Y1,400 to Y1,500. This renewed purchase by exporters for the United States and Europe proved a great encouragement to the market.

UNGERN'S FORCE OCCUPIES URGA

Peking Hears Report That General Kao Tsai-tien Was Killed

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Feb. 11.—According to a telegram from Siberia, Baron Ungern's force occupied Urga on the 2nd inst, and have since been inflicting great cruelties upon the population. The Chinese authorities have received no information from Urga since the 2nd, when a message stated that the wireless station was under shell fire, and must perforce be abandoned. The enemy were then attacking the town from three sides.

Rumors are circulating in Peking, based on the reports of travellers, to the effect that General Kao Tsai-tien was killed about the same time that the Hutukhtu escaped. Local Russians believe that the enemy were not prepared to launch a heavy attack on Urga before rescuing the Hutukhtu, lest he should suffer, but once he had escaped, they turned their guns on the city, pushed home the attack.

The message from Siberia mentioned above, further states that some Chinese troops from Urga are retreating northwards, and others eastward. There seems to be no doubt that Mongols had joined the invaders in numbers prior to the despatch of the last official telegrams.

Belgian Engineer's Wife Dies, Children Suffer In Storm

(China Press Correspondence)

Tunghaishien, Feb. 2.—A few weeks ago, a Belgian engineer, Kets by name, and his family, who had come to begin work on the harbor at Haukeo, took up their residence on the Island, "Sien Tao," several li from the mainland and lived in Chinese houses.

During the heavy snow storms in January they were cut off from the mainland for several days, with no communication of any kind.

Mrs. Kets was taken ill with pneumonia, and died before the mission doctor from Haichow could reach them.

There were two little children who were taken into the missionaries' homes until their father could come for them.

Continued bad weather made the roads impossible, and it was almost a week before he could reach the seaport four miles from Haichow.

Through the influence and kindness of the Military official, he was able to get passage across to Tsingtao on the little Japanese steamer.

Quite a large number of Belgian engineers have arrived in China, and are waiting in Peking for more favorable weather before coming here to begin work.

The community, both Chinese and foreign, are rejoicing in the return from America of Rev. J. W. Vinson, who successfully underwent a very serious operation, and has returned in good health.

Resents Slurs On British Employers

Sir West Ridgeway Refutes Charges Of Anti-Slavery Society

(Reuter's Service)

London, February 10.—Sir West Ridgeway, President of the British North Borneo Chartered Company, in a letter to the Times, referring to the charges of the Anti-Slavery and Aborigines' Protection Society against the Administration of North Borneo, which were officially investigated and declared unfounded, strongly advises the Society's Committee to exercise some supervision and restraint over "the well-meaning zealots who, obsessed by the delusion that every British employer of native labor is a tyrant, and every Government official in countries inhabited by native races necessarily a liar, drag the Society into false and compromising situations."

He instances recent attacks on the Administrations of East Africa, West Africa, South Africa, and now North Borneo, which are, he says, unjustified as they are cruel. He is advised by eminent counsel, he states, that the recent attacks on the Chartered Company are actionable.

Customs Officials Doubt Rum Ruling

(Reuter's Service)

New York, February 10.—The New York Customs authorities express the opinion that the decision of the Department of Justice that no ship transporting liquor from one foreign port to another may call at an American port will, if strictly carried out, prevent the entry of any passenger liner having a bar, even though its contents are sealed. Shipping circles are doubtful whether the ruling will be strictly construed.

Chefalo And Palermo

"What you know can't happen does happen. And though you don't believe it, you see it."

That about sums up the show that Signer Chefalo and Signorina Palermo are now putting up at the Olympic Theater. Chefalo introduced himself with the remark that "you may advertise as much as you like and you may say that you can do all sorts of things but the final verdict must lie with the public."

A very good part of the playgoing public turned out to see the two magicians last night and the interest and enthusiasm that it displayed left little to be desired. The duo is as clever as anything that we have ever seen here. From the very start we were kept absolutely mystified and thanks to some very excellent and witty chatter on the part of Chefalo, we were often able to laugh, and thus get some relief from the thraldom into which trick after trick enveloped us.

What Chefalo can do with pair of hands, the ordinary man could not do with an army corps and its full equipment. He seemed to be able to supply more poultry from a small bag, or the back of a small man, than the up-to-date farm yard could produce in a week. He sent handkerchiefs, with rings and watches hanging on to them, into the highest corners of the Olympic's lofty ceiling. He did more to bring his auditors into communication with the spirit world than the redoubtable Conan Doyle. In short Chefalo is a master of mystery, and he can look forward with confidence to "taking-in" many a full house during his stay here.

In Signorina Palermo we have a visitor who is unique. We usually see a lady as an assistant to a conjurer and naturally she is always attractive, but here we have a mistress-magician who is the equal in every way to Chefalo himself. She accomplishes all sorts of remarkable feats with a neatness and dexterity that leaves the audiences gasping with surprise and then thundering out its applause in appreciation.

Besides mystery, a delightful touch is given to the program by some artistic dancing by both the artists. One of the features of the show, by the way, is the number of wonderful costumes that Signorina Palermo wears, and their beauty is made the more striking by the rapidity with which she changes them.

Today there is to be a matinee at three o'clock, and a night performance at 9.15. The whole performance can be thoroughly recommended to all who would ask for mystery, laughter and interest.

Domino.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, February 10.—The Japanese residents of Primoria have drawn up the following petition to the Japanese Government:

"Japanese public opinion is inclined towards evacuation of the Japanese troops from Siberia, but, although the meeting of the Chita Assembly is imminent, peace is not established, our lives are not secure and many are suffering privations while awaiting the recommencement of trade.

"In case evacuation is decided on, we will be compelled to leave the country, ruining our trade relations which have been established for many years.

"We request your consideration of these circumstances, and that you safeguard our interests and thus avoid making our departure necessary."

Twits Mr. Balfour On His Bachelorhood

Lloyd George Referring To Foster Marriage, Hopes For Colleague

London, Dec. 25.—Premier Lloyd George, who has broken many traditions, shattered one of the toughest this week. He publicly twitted Arthur J. Balfour, president of the Council, about his bachelorhood. Great Britain's austere elder statesman is said not to relish allusions to his state of single blessedness, particularly since Mrs. Asquith "made him famous" as one man she did not wed, in relating how when he was asked regarding the rumor that he and Margot were engaged replied: "My God, I hope not. I want my own career."

Lloyd George broke the ice at the luncheon to the British Empire delegates to the League of Nations Assembly at Geneva by alluding to the marriage in Geneva of Sir George Foster, at which Mr. Balfour was best man. In concluding a toast he turned jocularly and said: "I venture to associate this toast with the name of Sir George Foster, who, I understand, recently entered another union. Mr. Balfour was there representing Great Britain and I have no doubt Sir George will return the compliment when Mr. Balfour undertakes similar obligations." This was greeted by roars of laughter from every one except Mr. Balfour.

Turn For Better Marking Raw Silk Trade In Japan

Attempts At Covering Some Qualities Partially Dispel Gloom

The raw silk market is growing markedly better on exporters' attempt at covering some qualities preferred by their European and American importers. However, at this new turn holders are trying to bolster up the price and it is doubted if it will develop into any definitive boom.

Extra grades were covered by several exporters, including the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, Hara and Company, the Yokohama Kiito Kaisha and others, and 21 medium and 14 medium changed hands to the extent of 40,000 kin at Y1,400 to Y1,500. This renewed purchase by exporters for the United States and Europe proved a great encouragement to the market.

U.S. SILK MEN DEMAND TARIFF

Fear Japanese Competition Will Ruin Their Business

(Special Cable)

Washington, February 4.—The American Silk Association, through Horace Cheney, president, today made a plea before the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives for higher duties to protect the silk industries of the United States against Japanese competition.

The Association's statement, which met with a very favorable reception, described the cheap labor of Japan and the conditions in the Japanese filatures and factories. It stressed the immense increase of the importation into America of Japanese broad silks and pointed out that Japanese manufacturers are rapidly extending their activities into classes and grades of silk goods.

Mr. Cheney declared that if something is not done to check the avalanche of Japanese silk imports, American merchants, who are still suffering from the prevailing depression, appear to be facing ruin.

The statement urged the imposition of the specific duties of the tariff of 1909 together with the so-called "catch all" clause, stipulating that no silks can enter the United States without the payment of at least 45 percent ad valorem duty and covering especially fancy silks. It declared that such an ad valorem duty would not be prohibitive against European silk imports and that it could check the competition of Japanese silk weavers, favored by a vastly lower wage scale.

Questions put to Mr. Cheney by Congressman J. W. Fordney, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, indicated that the committee is considering a plan for greatly increasing the duties on goods coming from countries in which child labor is employed.

TIENTSIN CITS WANT TO PLAY SHANGHAI NINE

Civilian Team Proposes Series For Five Teams If Locals Make Trip To North

JOHNNY SCOTT IS HERE

Former Navy And Shanghai Flinger To Sound Out Baseball Club Committee

A baseball series to be staged late in June or late in July is planned for Tientsin. The dates will be announced as soon as it is definitely known when a Filipino team will make the trip from Manila to meet the Peking Marines and 15th United States Infantry, stationed at Tientsin. The Tientsin civilian ball club will also be in the series and if possible, the Tientsin civies will make arrangements for a Shanghai nine to meet the four teams.

Such is the news brought to Shanghai yesterday by Johnny Scott, former Navy and Shanghai hurler, who is now busy bringing light to darkest North China via the Delco line. John is very enthusiastic about the possibilities of entertaining a Shanghai ball club and is to discuss the matter here with the men who are handling local baseball.

Incidentally John says he is to have a great year on the mound. He has been keeping his right arm in shape for the past three months by carrying a little baby girl—he admitted he had hoped for a boy.

BIG YEAR AHEAD

Whether the Shanghai Baseball Club Committee will consider the trip is a question. With the Olympic games here in May and Leland Stanford coming in June, it looks like a big year for baseball here but if no expense is entailed and the men can make the grade with their respective taipans, it would be a great idea to send a group North to demonstrate the Shanghai version of the w.k. American national game.

The Filipinos make the journey to North China annually so that the Army championship of the Far East may be settled a couple of times—the 15th Infantry is in Manila now, playing in the Carnival series. Then the Legation Guard is brought over from Peking and the Tientsin Civilians will be as strong as they were a year ago.

Shanghai should have a rattling good ball club if the Trans-Pacific liners run as per schedule. The problem is to get the available men out.

The Baseball Club has its meeting next Friday and proper publicity should be given it. There are many matters of importance to be discussed and a large attendance is necessary.

Tientsin Beats Peking Team In Ice Hockey Game

Beating Peking's best seven last Sunday morning by 5 to 3, the Tientsin Ice Hockey Club comes into possession of the Wharton Interport Ice Hockey Cup presented by Mr. J. W. Fenton, one of Peking's prominent sportsmen.

The game was full of thrills and well fought out, the last quarter resolving into one of the most exciting ten minutes ever played on the Peking Club rink. The two winning goals were scored in a determined attack on the Peking goalie's charge by Tientsin's forward line, backed up by the defence, who, in their anxiety to score, besieged the goal en masse, leaving the Tientsin Goal-keeper in sole charge of his half of the rink.

The score hardly represents the merits of the winning team, whose bombardment of the Peking citadal was blocked not by the goalie but by the opposing players' bodies. Shot after shot was stopped by the Peking men, who swarmed about the front of their goal, making it almost impossible to get the puck through.

Salvation, Griffin, Winner Of Kiangwan Champions; Two Favorites, Old Bill And The Hawk, Are Placed

Of the many thousands in the throngs at Kiangwan race course yesterday 204 people, probably remembering what the 1921 griffin Salvation had done in the Kiangwan Derby the day before, backed their faith in the pony when the Champions were called and in this way they shared in the day's single big upset, collecting in each case a dividend of $79, the largest of the program. The third day of the meeting at Kiangwan brought brilliant sunshine together with a raw whipping northeast wind and it brought also one of the largest crowds the Kiangwan track has seen.

Throughout the card the racing was of the highest order and with the track hardened into first class shape the favorites in general justified expectations but none of the track records were broken, though in the Champions the time of 2:36 2-5 for the mile and the quarter, made by Salvation, was within a second and a fifth of the record hung up in 1918 by the pony Beaconsfield.

MANY FIGHTS IN STRETCH

The first of the list of hard fought finishes came about in the opening event of the day. The Novices Cup, for in this Mr. Meguro's grey Royalist, ridden by Mr. H. W. Ip and another Meguro pony, Asuka, with Mr. S. Liu up, rode a dead heat for first place, the two ponies leading the way down the home stretch well ahead of the big field behind them.

Another gripping finish was seen in the Sixth race, The Great Northern Plate. In this Mr. Lansing's grey Chandler was piloted by Mr. William Hill into the lead in the home stretch and on to this pony's third victory in as many days while a length behind South Down ridden by Mr. Crokam and San Juan, ridden by Mr. I. Ezra, ran a dead heat for second place.

TWELVE START

The Champions ran as the Ninth race of the program and the bell brought twelve starters to the track. Winsome and Hasty's classic winner, The Hawk, was the long favorite in the race with Bydand, Old Bill, Shenkoland and Maresfield also strongly supported. The race itself was without particular incident, but it brought one of stirring finishes of the day with a fight to the end of the contest between Mr. Perchang's Salvation, ridden by Mr. D. S. Li, and Mr. Campox' Old Bill, ridden by Mr. S. B. Bremner. The dun Salvation finished a scant head in the lead and The Hawk brought up third place, a length behind Old Bill.

An unfortunate incident of the day occurred when the second race was being started when Moonlighter threw Mr. W. A. Dalgarno. In the fall the rider suffered a broken nose besides losing several teeth and he was kicked by the pony, being obliged to retire for the day.

Messrs. Seth and Humphrey's grey griffin Tired Tinker did not a little to add to the gaiety of the meeting. On Thursday Tired Tinker staged a wholly unlooked for runaway to the interest of the throng and the pony again repeated the performance yesterday afternoon in the eighth race when it bolted and after circling the track the wrong way round made good its escape from the course and ran back to its stable.

Another unannounced event of yesterday was supplied at the start of the Tenth race when Mr. Fash's chestnut, The Wong, bucked while in front of the grandstand and unseated its rider, Mr. A. J. Heard. Mafoos captured the pony after a brief struggle and The Wonk took its place in the race.

Tokio Plant Fills Big Powder Orders

Shops Of Iwaana Manufacturing Company Send Product To Other Countries

Among the various Japanese manufactures the development of which was stimulated by the Great War was black powder. With the cessation of imports from abroad, due to the war, the demand for the black powder manufactured by the Iwaana Powder Manufactory of the Tokio Military Arsenal increased.

The manufacturers of this country took advantage of the suspension of foreign imports to improve their productions and as a result the factory has been enabled to place on the market far better products than were possible in the pre-war days. Hitherto according to a Kokumin report the powder turned out by the military factory was principally used in this country. Large orders have been turned in recently however from consumers in China and other Oriental countries.

In order to cope with the situation, the Iwaana Powder Factory has recently extended its shops. The Iwaana railway, which has hitherto been used almost exclusively for transporting the products of the factory from its shops to the nearest station on the Government railway, has been purchased by the Department of War to aid the solution of the transportation problem.

The authorities believe in the possibility of making the product of the Iwaana Powder Factory a commodity of world wide reputation. On the basis of this belief they are contemplating a large-scale extension of the shops where blasting charges for use in the coal mines are manufactured.

According to the Kokumin, a large percentage of the powder used in the country is the product of the Iwaana Powder Factory. It was before the outbreak of war in Europe that the factory turned its attention to the manufacture of bombs for mining, but at that time the product of the factory was far inferior to foreign products, especially the German brand. With the advent of the world war the rush for the productions of the Iwaana Factory, made the authorities pay attention to the improvement of the Iwaana product. According to the Kokumin, these efforts for improvement have not only enabled them to turn out powder having greater explosive power than that produced five years ago but to manufacture it in larger quantities. In the opinion of an authority the powder now being turned out by the Iwaana Factory is more powerful than any foreign brand in the world.

Stored German Dyes Disturbing Factor In Japan Market

Merchants In Line Fear Effect Of Government's Dumping

In the Japanese dye trade there is a new factor, which is increasing in its importance. Its potentiality is felt all round and in spite of leading merchants trying hard to bolster up the line it is stated that the general trend of the line is quite dull and inactive.

German reparation colors which commenced to arrive last Summer are not yet disposed of by the Government, and all are in Kobe warehouses to the account of the Finance Department. In the middle of December a new addition was made to this stock, which consisted of intermediate colors and indigo pure. The total is now a considerable stock, and how and when it is to be let loose on the market is a question which is now inspiring fear into the mind of most in the line.

Wednesday at Kyoto leading dye merchants from Osaka, Tokio, Kyoto and other cities held a New Year's auction also, with the apparent intention of bolstering up the line, conducting quite brisk sales. It is stated that the day's sale amounted to no less than 100,000 kin. However, fear is still lurking in the line.

Sales in the general market since the beginning of the month have been quite limited, accordingly and even the usual laying in of Summer's wants by clothing men is not yet started. The export of sulphur colors to China is also practically stopped and no sign of immediate improvement is in sight.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given your physician know of what to your children unless you or it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." D. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine." N. B. STONE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

U.S. Officers Saved 1,800 War Captives

Austrian Ex-Colonel Tells How They Rescued Sick and Starving In Siberian Camp

Washington, Dec. 12.—The State Department has received from the American Mission at Budapest a translation of an open letter to the press of Austria and Hungary, written by Lieutenant Colonel Ferdinand Reder, of the former Austro-Hungarian Army expressing thanks on behalf of himself and his comrades for succor and kindness which they received while prisoners of war at the camp of Krasnaja Rjetschka, near Chabarovsk, in Eastern Siberia, from the officers of the Twenty-seventh United States Infantry, which was commanded by Colonel C. H. Morrow.

The letter of appreciation was made public by the Department today as follows:

"On my return from Russia, where I spent six years as a prisoner of war, I feel it my first and most sacred duty to state emphatically in the name of the 1,800 Austro-Hungarian war prisoners of the camp of Krasnaja Rjetschka, near Chabarovsk in East Siberia, that we owe our lives to the American officers of the Twenty-seventh Infantry Regiment—to Colonel C. H. Morrow, Captain E. Larkins, Captain Surgeon Dr. Burdett and First Lieutenant John James.

"At the beginning of October, 1918, influenza broke out in our camp. The physical condition of the prisoners was at that time so reduced, in consequence of the wretched accommodations and the miserable and insufficient food provided by Russian authorities, that the disease spread with frightful rapidity. Hardly anybody was spared, and there were soon 1,500 serious cases. The men who were not dangerously ill had to nurse their bed-ridden comrades. No medicines were available, the shortage of food was more and more terrible, and we were all convinced our camp would soon be one vast cemetery without a living soul to tell the sad tale.

"At this horrible pass, when we were all a prey to despair, Colonel Morrow and Company E of the Twenty-seventh Foot Regiment, under the command of Captain Larkins, arrived and took charge of our camp. This happened on the 8th of October, 1918. The Americans brought provisions for a month and soon effected a complete change in the conditions of our camp.

"Through the energy, untiring activity, kind heart and clear insight of Captain Dr. Burdett our miserable hospital was soon transformed into a model establishment. Under the new regime the epidemic was soon quelled and our death rate, which had been appalling, sank to a minimum.

"After having thus saved the lives of the prisoners, the noble, generous and wise American commander, Colonel Morrow, set about making these lives worth living. Workshops of all sorts were arranged, schools founded, a library, a theater, baths, a coffee house, were built and grounds for every kind of sports were laid out. Funds were provided by the Americans. The prisoners were happy to do the work. If I tried to describe all that was accomplished in our camp under American protection I should have to write a book. At some future period I may be induced to do so, and every page of the as yet unwritten book will be bright with deeds of American kindness and good sense, glowing with the warmth of our gratitude.

"Here I only wish to quote the words spoken to me at parting by a foreign visitor, after having looked over our camp: 'I have seen camp of war prisoners all over the world he said, 'but not one so beautiful, s well organised, conducted and pro vided for.'

"After all those weary years w felt raised to the dignity of man hood again, and we began to lov the life to which we had bee restored. And, now we have re turned to our dear ones at hom we should like all the world t know that we owe our lives, ou health and happiness, our power fo good in this world, to the nob American officers of the 27th Fo Regiment, to the great America nation.

"(Signed) FERDINAND REDER.

There was a fair demand at the auction which started yesterday morning at prices on an average about 3 to 4 cents below last week's.

Standard Ribbed Smoked Sheet sold up to 34 cents, showing a decline of 3½ cents on the week. The average price may be given as 33 cents.

No lot of Standard First Latex was sold. Off Quality Sheet was wanted at prices about 3 cents lower than last auction's.

Off Color Latex was rather neglected, and shows a decline of about 6 cents.

Brown, Dark and Barky Crepes met with a good competition, and prices were on an average only 2 cents below last week's level.

At the continuation this morning there was no change in the market.

SLAYING OF TISZA NOW CHARGED TO PLOT OF KAROLYI

Paris Paper Bares Detail Of Diplomat's Murder In Wife's Presence

PROTESTED SERB TERMS

Jewish Soldiers Insulted Dead, Says Nephew Of Austro-Hungarian Envoy

Paris, Dec. 25.—New details regarding the assassination of Count Stefan Tisza, the Austro-Hungarian diplomatist who alone protested against the ultimatum sent to Serbia by Emperor Francis Joseph following the murder of Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Sarajevo on June 28, 1914, are contained in the last issue of the Revue des Deux Mondes. They show that it was the result of a plot by the adherents of Count Michael Karolyi, one time Hungarian Premier, that Count Tisza was murdered before the eyes of his wife, while the populace thrilled by the new revolutionary spirit, hurled stones through the windows of his house and later danced folk dances on the roof of the railroad car carrying the corpse of the Allies' one friend in the Austro-Hungarian Empire to its last resting place.

According to Jerome and Jean Tharaud, who have investigated the tragedy, it occurred toward the end of July, 1918, shortly after Count Tisza, with a premonition of impending disaster, destroyed the only remaining copy of the letter he had written to the Emperor protesting against the terms in which the ultimatum to Serbia was couched as it left no alternative to the Serbs save war.

The whole plot against Count Tisza appears to have been directed by a Jewish revolutionary and journalist named Pogany. With Pogany as spokesman, a group of men, armed to the teeth, entered Count Tisza's apartment and reproached him with responsibility for the death of their relatives during the war because he had not wholeheartedly supported the Austrian cause. Count Tisza had a revolver, but when he was asked to place it on a table near by he did so. A moment later shots rang out and Count Tisza dropped to the floor, bleeding profusely, However, he lived long enough to murmur:

"I knew it had to come."

Count Karolyi added insult to injury by sending a wreath of flowers bearing a card on which was written:

"To my great adversary, as a token of reconciliation."

However, Countess Tisza ordered the wreath thrown among the garbage.

M. Rocnansky, the count's nephew, who guarded the remains of the murdered statesman and diplomatist on the journey from Budapest to the cemetery at Count Tisza's birthplace, recounted how soldiers, chiefly members of Jewish regiments, invaded the compartment of the train and insulted the dead man while their comrades gleefully danced whenever the train stopped.

Count Tisza was buried in the village of Geszt, while the real culprits of the war—men like Count Leopold von Berchtold, one time Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, who is living the life of a wealthy man somewhere in Switzerland, and Gen. Conrad de Hoetzendorff formerly Austrian Chief of Staff, who is understood to be writing his memoirs, escaped.

BIRTH

REHNBORG: On February 10th, at Dr. Fearn's Sanatorium, Shanghai, to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rehnborg, a daughter, Nancy Fitch. 35586

1809--Abraham Lincoln--1865 And The World Today

TODAY all good Americans observe the birth of Abraham Lincoln, the sixteenth President of the United States. He was born on February 12, 1809, and he died on April 15, 1865, just at the end of the American Civil War, a war whose inceptions and principles, viewed from the long standpoint of now, embodied and encompassed those, or many of them, which moved the whole world to action in the Great War of 1914-1918.

How would Lincoln, "With malice toward none, with charity for all," have directed and conducted the recovery of the ruined South? How would he have set about restoring a ruined world if he had lived through the recent war and in these times? These questions must forever remain unanswered in the letter, but in order to sense the spirit which would have animated him we have only to turn to his Gettysburg speech, delivered only four months after that historic battle, and while still in the midst of the greatest Civil War that man has recorded.

And how well those cherished sentiments would serve the world today to save it and succor it from its self-inflicted sufferings! He was dedicating the battlefield as a soldiers' cemetery.

.....The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead, we take increased devotion to that cause to which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Eight months later, when there was unauthorised talk of peace proposals from the South, he issued the following standing offer:

"To Whom It May Concern: Any proposition which embraces the restoration of peace, the integrity of the whole union, and the abandonment of slavery, and which comes by and with an authority which can control the armies now at war against the the United States, will be received and considered by the Executive Government of the United States, and will be met by liberal terms on substantial and collateral points, and the bearer or bearers thereof shall have safe conduct both ways."

This, when the North was winning and the South rapidly collapsing. Not at any time throughout that terrible war did any thought, or epithet, of hatred or revenge, fall from the lips of Lincoln.

In a recent address on Americanism, Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior, uttered the heartfelt wish: "If we could only make our people look at all questions of America through Lincoln's eyes!"

Aye! If we could only make the whole world look at its questions through his eyes.

In days of yore the trouble was
To pacify the miners,
To find the wherewithal to buy
A ticket on the liners,
But now another potentate
In Shanghai leads the diners,
And Rosenfeld
A crowd will weld
Of masons. All hail shriners!

ALF WAS NOT ABLE

Alfred was a boxer, and his father was very anxious to hear the result of his great fight with the redoubtable heavy-weight champion, Bill Bruiser.

He made his boy promise that he would wire the result as soon as the contest was over.

"You won't disappoint me, will you, Alfred?" he said.

"No, I promise," said Alfred, and sallied forth to the fray.

The father waited impatiently, and at last the wire arrived. Eagerly he seized the envelope, and tore it open.

It was signed "Bill Bruiser," and ran:

"Alfred would wire if he could. But he can't!"

I DISLIKE "HONEST" PEOPLE

By Helen Rowland

Sometimes I think that, next to caterpillars, jazz-bands and a vain man,

The thing I dislike most, in this whole wide world,

Is a perfectly "honest" person, with perfectly good intentions!

The kind that tells you when your hat is not becoming, and when you have "made a fool of yourself,"

And that you are getting too fat to wear this or too old to wear that—and all those sweet little truths, "for your own good"!

The world is so full of them—

Careless, bungling, chattering people,

Who go about blithely dropping poison into other people's minds.

There is the woman who drops the poison of discouragement into her husband's mind, for instance.

"Oh, Tom," she says, "give it up! You know you can't succeed at that!"

• • •

Don't Spread Mental Poison

And there is the man who drops the poison of self-consciousness and humiliation into his wife's mind.

"Why do you dress like a flapper," he remarks witheringly, "at your age?"

And there is the woman who drops the poison of jealousy into another woman's mind,

And the person who drops the poison of suspicion into a young wife's mind, by telling her to "keep her eyes open," and not "trust a man too far."

And the person who drops the poison of discontent into a young husband's mind, by calling his attention to his wife's little lapses or imperfections

Personally

I would rather go about all my life long telling sweet, encouraging fibs,

Than to run the risk of letting fall one drop of mental poison—

The poison of fear, of discouragement, of unhappiness, of self-deprecation, of hopelessness

Into another person's soul!

Beware of the Poison-Droppers!

Prussic acid may be pumped out of the system,

But mental poison gets into the blood and heart and soul, and nothing will heal the seared spots.

Reed And Butler Talk With Harding

Marion, Ohio, Dec. 18.—Opposition to the Bryan-Harvey proposal for a national referendum before engaging in offensive warfare was voiced today by two of Senator Harding's callers, Senator Reed, Missouri irreconcilable, and Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University.

The President-elect was particularly anxious to win Mr. Reed to his plan for a modified association of nations. He felt that if the Missouri Senator gave his approval, the rest of the bitter-enders would fall in line.

Senator Reed intimated that if Senator Harding's proposed association contained no more obligations than The Hague tribunal, the project would have his support. As Senator Harding has not told publicly the fundamentals of the plan for an association which he has discussed with his visitors, there is no evidence as to what extent the Bryan-Harvey war referendum plan is adopted. Press comment upon the proposal, reaching Marion is regarded as generally unfavorable.

Outside of Mr. Bryan and Colonel Harvey, Senator Fall is the only one of the visitors who has endorsed the plan. Others with whom the President-elect has been in conference, such as Messrs. Root, Hughes and Hoover, have issued statements, interpreted here as hostile to the proposal. Two of today's visitors, Reed and Butler, were hostile, while a third, Senator New of Indiana, was noncommittal.

In a talk with correspondents, Senator Reed declared that an association of nations, based on a national referendum before engaging in offensive warfare, was "wholly impracticable."

"Just to illustrate my point," he said, "suppose the United States and Japan become involved in a controversy that almost reaches the stage of war. Japan could seize the Philippines and Hawaii and land an army on our shores or destroy our fleet while we were submitting the matter to a referendum."

Causes and conditions, not Governments, force war, the Senator asserted. He expressed the opinion that there are now many ways to promote peace and prevent war through the agencies of treaties and such a body as The Hague Tribunal. He spoke against any governing association of nations.

"The country has given its decision concerning a governing league," he added, "and any man failing to be guided by that would be breaking faith with the American people."

BUTLER CRITICISESE

Dr. Butler gave out a statement in which he expressed his opposition to the peace referendum proposal thus:

"The suggestion that a declaration of war be made dependent upon a popular referendum overlooks both the psychology of the crowd and the fact that war is not an affair of one nation alone, but of two or more nations. It also carries us back to the customs of ancient Greece, where the people voted on peace and war, and almost uniformly voted for war.

"Any modern people lashed into a fury of anger or hate by skillful and clever demagogues in the press or on the platform would vote for two wars where a responsible representative government would venture to declare one. The notion that wars are forced by Governments upon unwilling peoples has no foundation in fact. Nothing is more certain that the peoples of Germany and Austria would have voted overwhelmingly for the late war had the question been submitted to them during the last week of July, 1914.

"Moreover, such a plan would tend to weaken and discredit representative government at a time when it should be strengthened and improved by all possible means. No, the only protection against war is to extend the rule of right and closely educate the people that call themselves civilised up to the point where they and their Governments consciously prefer the rule of the right to the appeal of force."

On the general subject of a peace arrangement, Dr. Butler said:

"There are only two known forms of international co-operation: the political and the judicial. The judicial form of international co-operation, accompanied by stated international conferences for declaring, revising and carrying forward the rules of international law, is the form to which the people and the Government of the United States are committed by tradition and by many formal acts.

"Unfortunately, the influence of President Wilson at the Peace Conference was thrown against making this form of international co-operation fundamental, and in favor of that form which is political in spirit and which may easily develop into that super-government which every free and independent nation justly fears and dislikes. Our task now is to get back upon the right track with the least possible delay and the least possible friction.

"The high cost of living and the high cost of doing business are due primarily to the high cost of government. The high cost of government in turn is due in no small degree to the fear of another international war. To lead the way in removing this fear is for the people of the United States both an opportunity and an obligation. It can be done without involving us in any of the complexities and complications of the League of Nations, as now organised, and yet without losing the advantages of close international association and co-operation."

WOULD HELP EUROPE

Dr. Butler spoke of foreign and domestic problems as "one and the same thing." Conditions in this country could not improve, he said, so long as Central Europe and the Balkans were in economic chaos. On this general subject he said:

"Quack remedies for the distress of our farmers, cotton planters and manufacurers will not avail so long as the economic situation remains what it is in Europe. What ails the American farmers, cotton planters and merchants cannot be remedied by acts of Congress, but only by restoring Central and South-eastern Europe to a sound economic basis and enabling them to become purchasers of our raw materials which we in turn enable them to sell through extension of credits.

"Europe cannot begin to buy largely from us until the present demoralisation of the exchanges is in part at least overcome. This will depend upon such production and thrift on the part of the European peoples as will enable them to withdraw the excessive volume of paper money now in circulation and get back to a gold basis. Just at present everything waits upon making definite the burden to be borne by Germany under the terms of the Peace Treaty. So soon as that amount is fixed, if it be an amount which the German people can by proper exertion and thrift meet in a term of years, then the economic machinery of the world will begin to move."

Concerning the President-elect Dr. Butler said:

"Senator Harding is taking up the grave problems which confront him, both domestic and international, with open mindedness, sagacity and fine patience. The confidence of the country in his leadership will be fully justified."

NEW WANTS TO REMAIN

Senator and Mrs. New arrived soon after the departure of Senator Reed and Dr. Butler. They will be guests of Senator and Mrs. Harding until tomorrow night.

"I have nothing to take up with Senator Harding," Senator New said. "I was invited here to answer any questions he may care to put to me. I have nothing to volunteer; there is nothing that I want. I prefer to keep my present status in the Senate and stand for re-election two years from now. My only desire is to help make the coming Administration successful."

Senator New declined to discuss the referendum proposal. He did say, however:

"I approve Senator Borah's proposal for Japan and Great Britain to agree with this country to limit their armaments. This, it seems to me, is where international relationship should begin. With only a few, but the most powerful, nations pledging reduced armaments, the rest of the world necessarily would have to follow. In this manner the result would be speedily accomplished without the delays, debates and misunderstandings that are unavoidable in more unwieldly international conferences."

Senator Wadsworth of New York and Colonel R. R. McCormick, editor of The Chicago Tribune, are expected to confer with Senator Harding tomorrow.

An interesting description has been given by Dr. Barrie, who has just returned from the Famine Districts in Honan, of the work being carried on there by the Missionary Societies who are in receipt of money and clothing from the Women's Famine Relief Society.

"The Chinese" he says, "are well clothed, and if asked where the clothes come from reply, "From the Foreign Women in Shanghai," thereby showing that they are aware that the W.F.R.S. is working for them, and this is all to the good."

This is gratifying news, and if our readers will continue their kind support, we hope to carry on this work until the Spring crops bring relief.

"THE NAUTILUS FIRE"

THE COSINESS OF THE OPEN COAL FIRE AND THE HIGH HEATING CAPACITY OF COILS AND RADIATORS ARE THE PRINCIPAL MERITS OF THE NEW IMPROVED NAUTILUS FIRES. THEY ARE SPECIALLY CONSTRUCTED ON SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLES TO COUNTERACT HEAT WASTE, TO SAVE FUEL—AND TO A LARGE EXTENT—TO CONSUME THE SMOKE. THEY ARE EASILY REMOVABLE SO THAT IN THE SUMMER THE FIREPLACE CAN BE DECORATED WITH PLANTS.

THE INTERESTING ILLUSTRATED BOOKLET "THE NAUTILUS FIRE," WILL TELL YOU ALL ABOUT THESE REMARKABLE FIRES STOCKED BY

Duke Of Brunswick Fights For Estate

Claims 250,000,000 Marks Worth Of Property From Socialists

Berlin, Dec. 25.—The Kaiser's son-in-law, the Duke of Brunswick, and his one-time subjects are in conflict over the Duke's claim of 250,000,000 marks' worth of property which was confiscated by the state at the time of the revolution. The young Duke sent emissaries to the Socialist Ministry in Brunswick agreeing to accept a compromise, but threatening to prevent the state from using his former estate by an injunction unless a settlement was reached.

"If he attempts this," said the Socialist Minister in Parliament, "we shall appeal to the people of Brunswick and then let the Duke come and try to take the property. It will then be a question of power."

The Socialist majority in Parliament rejected the Duke's claim. The property consists of lands, forests, a museum and a public library.

Airmen's Mascot Lion A Hopeless Invalid

One Eye Gone And He's Down With Rheumatism, Says Dispatch

Paris, Dec. 25.—The lion mascot presented to the Zoo in the Paris Jardin des Plantes when the American members of the Lafayette Squadron left here for home is the latest victim of the war. According to the Intransigeant, the lion, which, as a cub, was blinded in one eye by a husky air pilot whose fur coat the cub had ruined, is now a helpless paralytic as a result of rheumatism he developed while sleeping in hangars.

Veterinarians have been electrically massaging various parts of the lion's body, but these treatments merely produce groans and stares from one good eye of the animal, which is no longer able to prance joyfully, as formerly, when khaki clad visitors from Coblenz try to coax a roar from him by tossing him a few roasted chestnuts. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals threatens to demand that the lion be destroyed unless he is cured before spring.

Mukden Americans Give Money To Aid Famine Sufferers

American Association Of Manchuria Vote Funds At Meeting

(China Press Correspondence)

Mukden, February 7.—A meeting of the American Association of Manchuria was held at Mukden on February 4.

The following officers were elected for 1921:

President, W. A. Mitchell, Andersen, Meyer and Co.
Vice-President, A. C. Chapin, Li Da Company.
Secretary-Treas., J. E. Brooks, British-American Tobacco Co.
Members of Executive Committee, M. J. Grey, Standard Oil Co. of N. Y., E. Carleton Baker.

The Association voted to appropriate the balance from last year's dues, and to solicit additional subscriptions from its members, the total sum to constitute the Association's contribution to the North China Famine Relief.

A committee consisting of Messrs. A. C. Chapin, R. H. Sharp, G. W. Philleo and Consul-General A. W. Pontius was appointed for arranging celebration of Washington's birthday.

American firms and individuals interested in business in this district should note that one of the objects of this Association is to function as an American Chamber of Commerce for this Consular District until such time as a separate organisation be required.

Dancers In Berlin Opera Poorly Paid

Berlin, Dec. 25.—It was more lucrative to dance for the Kaiser than it is for the German Republic, and so the ballet of the State Opera in Berlin has resorted to publicity to support its demand for higher wages. The Kaiser as the King of Prussia paid notoriously little and his pensions before the war were exceptionally low.

But today dancers with several years of experience are receiving the equivalent of only $5.10 a month, and with this they have to buy their own dancing slippers at $1.25 a pair. They are asking for a scale of $21 a month, with a minimum pension of $4.90.

Max von Schillings, director of the opera and composer of "Mona Lisa," is known to be in sympathy with the request of his dancers. His own salary will be raised in February, but only to $224 a year. Barbara Kemp, the highest paid star in the company, is receiving $1,260 this season.
